Department of Immigration and Border Protection

Application for a Business Skills (provisional) visa

The Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department) acknowledges that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the traditional custodians of the Australian land.

Life in Australia – Australian values

The Australian Government encourages people to gain an understanding of Australia, its people and their way of life, before applying for a visa to live in Australia.

This includes understanding that the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society. Australian society is also united through the following shared values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion;
- commitment to the rule of law;
- Parliamentary democracy;
- equality of men and women;
- a spirit of egalitarianism that embraces mutual respect, tolerance, fair play and compassion for those in need and pursuit of the public good;
- equality of opportunity for individuals, regardless of their race, religion or ethnic background.

The Life in Australia booklet provides more information on the values that Australians share and their way of life. This booklet is available in a wide range of languages. If you have not already received a copy then it can be obtained from www.border.gov.au

You must have read the Life in Australia booklet before completing this application form. If you have difficulty, or are unable to read the booklet, you may have the content of it explained to you, for example, by a friend or relative. This form contains a statement, that you must sign, that confirms you understand and will respect the values of Australian society (as explained in the booklet) and will obey the laws of Australia. This includes acknowledging what would be required if you later applied for Australian citizenship.

This statement must also be signed by each person aged 18 years or over, who is included in this form.

About this form

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your application. Once you have completed your application we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

Note: This form should only be used by persons seeking to engage in business or investment activities in Australia as a temporary resident.

Before filling in the form

Make sure you have all the required documents.

Make sure your proposed business and/or investment activities in Australia are not affected by either registration or licensing requirements, or by your temporary, provisional visa status in Australia. Information on the rules for investing in Australia is available from the Foreign Investment Review Board website www.firb.gov.au

Before lodging your application

- If you are being sponsored by a state or territory government, you should have completed form 949 State/ Territory sponsorship: Business Skills class. The representative of the state or territory business development agency authorised for the purpose of sponsorship under the Business Skills class will sign and stamp this form and return it to you. You must include this signed and stamped form with all the other forms and documents in your application for a Business Skills class visa.
- If you are not being sponsored, you should have completed form 927 State/Territory notification: Business Skills class. You need to complete and send this form to the business development agency in the state or territory in which you intend to go into business. The agency will sign and stamp this form and return it to you. You must include the signed and stamped form with all the other forms and documents in your application for a Business Skills class visa.

Integrity of application

The department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programmes. In relation to this application, if you or a member of your family unit:

- provide, or have provided in a previous application, fraudulent documents or false or misleading information (knowingly or not); and/or
- fail to satisfy, or have failed to satisfy in a previous application, the Minister of your or their identity;

this visa application may be refused and you, and any members of your family unit, may become unable to be granted a visa for specified periods of time, as set out in migration legislation.

If documents are found to be fraudulent or information to be incorrect after the grant of a visa, the visa may subsequently be cancelled.

Making a valid application

To make a valid application you must:

- use this form (available from any Australian mission, the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department in Australia);
- indicate the correct class of visa by selecting the type of application in Part A of the application form and complete the appropriate Business Skills profile form;
- provide the address of where you intend to live while your application is being dealt with. Failure to give a residential address will result in your application being invalid.
 A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address;
- pay the required charge;

- lodge your application at one of 2 processing centres:
 - If you are applying in Australia, send or deliver your application to the Adelaide Business Skills Processing Centre (ABSPC).

Street address:

70 Franklin Street Adelaide SA 5000

Courier address:

Postal address:

GPO Box 2399 Adelaide SA 5001

- If you are applying from outside Australia, applicants who usually live in Taiwan or the People's Republic of China (including Hong Kong and Macau) must apply to the Australian Consulate General in Hong Kong, and applicants who usually live elsewhere must lodge their applications with the ABSPC.

Hong Kong Business Skills Processing Centre 24th Floor, Harbour Centre 25 Harbour Road Wan Chai, Hong Kong

• Any application lodged in any other office or in any other way cannot be accepted and will not be a valid application and will not be processed. For further information on lodging your application, refer to the department's website www.border.gov.au at the time you are planning to make your application.

You must also:

- complete the form in English;
- answer all questions truthfully; and
- provide supporting documents where necessary.

If you provide incorrect information or documents, this may affect whether you are granted a visa or not, or your visa may be subsequently cancelled.

Read the notes on each question. If a question is not applicable, write 'N/A'. Any changes or corrections you make must be initialled and dated by each person who signs the form. If you use the page provided in the form or any other sheets of paper for additional information, each must also be signed and dated by all persons who sign the form.

Visa Application Charge

Refer to Part N – Payment details of this form to calculate the correct charge and make payment.

Refer to www.border.gov.au for a complete and current list of applicable fees and charges.

Fees and charges may be subject to change at any time and this may increase the cost of a visa application.

Generally, Visa Application Charges are reviewed on 1 July each year, and the exchange rates used to calculate the amount payable in a foreign country are updated on 1 January and 1 July each year.

If you do not pay the full Visa Application Charge amount, your visa application will not be valid.

Charges are generally not refundable, even if the application is withdrawn or refused.

Method of payment

In Australia (including Adelaide Business Skills Processing Centre)

To make a payment, please pay by credit card, bank cheque or money order made payable to the Department of Immigration and Border Protection. Credit card is the preferred method of payment.

Outside Australia (Hong Kong only)

Before making a payment outside Australia, please check with the Australian Government office where you intend to lodge your application as to what methods of payment and currencies they can accept and to whom the payment should be made payable.

Who the form covers

The application form covers a family unit, namely a main applicant and, if applicable, partner and dependants.

If you have a partner, consider which of you is most likely to meet visa requirements before filling in the form. That person should be the main applicant and complete Part B – Your details of this form.

'Partner' means your spouse or de facto partner (including same-sex partners).

Dependent children

A dependent child may be your or your partner's child or stepchild. 'Step-child' means a child of your current partner or a child of your former partner when the child is under 18 years and you have a legal responsibility to care for that child (for example, when your former partner is deceased and you have legal custody of your former partner's child).

You will need to provide a certified copy of the overseas or Australian court order which you have in relation to the child.

A child of any age is not considered dependent if he or she is married or in a de facto relationship or is engaged to be married.

A child 18 or over will not be considered dependent unless you can show that they are wholly or substantially reliant on you for financial support for their basic needs of food, shelter and clothing. You must also show that you have provided that support for a substantial period and that the child is more reliant on you than on any other person or source. Unless you can provide evidence of this, they should apply separately. You should also be aware that a child aged 25 or over will generally not be considered dependent.

Children of any age who have a total or partial loss of bodily or mental functions which stops them earning a living are regarded as dependent and part of the family unit (whether or not they migrate with you). Give details of such children whether they are in your care or in an institution.

In all cases you should attach evidence of your child's dependency on you.

Other dependants

You may include other relatives in your application if they are wholly or substantially reliant on you for financial support for their basic needs of food, shelter and clothing and they have been reliant on you for that support for a substantial period. They must also be more reliant on you for support than on any other person or source.

A relative may also be considered dependent on you if they are reliant on you for financial support because they have a mental or physical disability which stops them from earning a living to support themselves.

Other relatives dependent on you may include, for example, an aged, unmarried relative.

Custody requirement

The department will seek to ensure that allowing a child to accompany you is not in contravention of Australia's international obligations in relation to the prevention of child abduction. If your application includes a child under 18 and the child's other parent is not accompanying you or there is any other person who has the legal right to determine where the child can live, you will need to provide a Statutory Declaration from each of them giving permission for the child to accompany you. Alternatively, you can provide a certified copy of a valid court order showing that you/your partner has the legal right to remove the child from the country.

Health

All applicants for permanent visas including the main applicant, spouse and any dependants must be assessed against the health requirement. Even if the applicant's spouse and dependants are not included in the visa application, they must still be assessed against the health requirement.

Applicants for a permanent visa will be asked to undergo a medical examination, an x-ray if 11 years of age or older and an HIV test if 15 years of age or older, as well as any additional tests required by the Medical Officer of the Commonwealth (MOC).

Note: Applicants may have already undertaken a health assessment for their visa. However, the department reserves the right to request additional health examinations as part of this visa application process.

Medical coverage

Temporary business entrants are generally not entitled to access Australia's national health insurance scheme.

Medicare Levy Exemption

The Medicare Levy is a tax paid through the personal tax system. The Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 imposes a Medicare levy on individuals who are considered to be Australian residents under the taxation laws. People granted temporary residence visas by the department are often considered to be residents under the taxation laws and may be subject to Medicare Levy. The Medicare Levy is based on the taxable income of the individual for each income tax year.

Temporary residents who have not been entitled to Medicare benefits (or Medicare benefits under reciprocal health care agreements) and have no dependants who are entitled to such benefits can seek an exemption from the Medicare Levy in their income tax return at the end of each financial year, provided their lack of entitlement to Medicare benefits has been certified by the Minister for Human Services.

Temporary residents from countries with which Australia has reciprocal* health arrangements are eligible for Medicare assistance for immediately necessary treatment. Nationals from most of these countries are therefore not exempt from the Medicare Levy (applicants for parent visas, New Zealand residents not residing in Australia and people from Ireland may be able to obtain exemptions via certification).

If you are not sure about your entitlement to Medicare benefits, you should check with the Medicare Levy Exemption Certification Unit at the Department of Human Services on telephone number 1300 300 271 (for the cost of a local call within Australia), or by writing to:

Levy Exemption Certification Unit Department of Human Services GPO Box 9822 HOBART TAS 7001

Supporting documents The documents you must

The documents you must provide are listed in Part J of this application form. Enclose all documents with your application. You may be asked to provide other documents during processing.

'Certified copies' of documents mean copies authorised or stamped as being true copies of originals by a person or agency recognised by the law of your country. In Australia, they must be certified by a Justice of the Peace or Commissioner for Declarations or by a person before whom a Statutory Declaration may be made.

All documents not in English must be accompanied by a certified English translation of the original. You may be asked to provide the originals of your documents at a later stage. Do not provide originals unless you are asked.

Passport information

Please note that most visa applicants will be required to hold a valid passport before they can be granted a visa. It is strongly recommended that the passport be valid for at least 6 months.

If you change your passport after you have been granted the visa you must notify the nearest Australian mission or office of the department.

If you do not provide us with the details of any new or additional passport you use to travel to Australia, you will experience significant delays at the airport and could be denied permission to board your plane.

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department. You should ensure that you read and understand form 1442i before completing this form.

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist you with your visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (Office of the MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

^{*} Australia has reciprocal agreement with the following countries: Great Britain, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Malta, the Netherlands, New Zealand, and Sweden. The terms of the agreements vary for different countries. You need to contact the Department of Human Services for more information.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your • application;
- help you fill in the application and submit it; and
- communicate with the department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the department will discuss your application and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Office of the MARA website www.mara.gov.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the department's website www.border.gov.au

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, brother or sister);
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Part M – Options for receiving written communications.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you. The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part M Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.
